Weddings

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Helen Roberts gave a unique party at her home on North Santa Fe street, in honor of Miss ina Nelson, who is to be married on Thankigiving day to Chas. Henry Wiese of Scattle, and as Miss Nelson's future home will be among the snow and ice, the hostess conceived the idea of a snowball shower.

As the guest of honor entered the front door she was showered with snowballs of cotton by the guests present and tiny snowfiakes from above covered her.

The house was beautifully decorated throughout. In the living room the guests were busy making a quilt for the bride to be, which they finished er the afternoon was spent. Under a pretense that the guest of honor must have her fortune read, she was taken into the living room and seated beneath an immense snowball, which was opesed, and she was showered with beautiful clamy dolles.

was opeend, and she was showered with beautiful clary dollies.

In the dining room the table was exquisite. In the center was a quantity of cotton covered with tinsel and a tipy Christmas tree in the center. Around the table were placed tiny white bachelor buttons, and from the corners to the chandelier white crepe paper was draped.

Covers were laid for 12 and tempting refreshments in snowball ice cream and angel food cake were served, carrying cut the color scheme of white. Miss Helen Roberts and Mrs. Bush served.

The guests were: Mrs. Bush, Mrs. Geo. Brunner, Miss Florence Goddard, Miss Frances Goddard, Mrs. Coles, Miss Darlough, Mrs. Novton, Miss Prather, Miss Newborough, Miss Emma Peters, Miss Helen Roberts and Mrs. Roberts.

To Wear Under a Coat

Quite a number of American tourists who have been sightseeing across the river have returned minus their packetbooks. The heldups usually work in and around the dance halls at night, but have been known to hold up victims in broad day light. Usually these men have on police stars and arrest the victim first, then search him and take everything of value that he has, telling him to "beat it."

This is one of the many dainty little crocheted jackets for wear in the house or under the outer wraps. It is made of soft, coarse varn and is simple in construction, having a pointed back and front, edged with a shell stitch border run with ribbons.

The color chosen for this was canary yellow with ribbons of gold gauze.
